Service Station Man, 58, Hit, Robbed

Attendant Hospitalized; 27 Burglaries, Thefts Counted in Quad-Cities

A service station attendant was attacked and injured in a robbery, another service station was looted and 11 homes were entered as a total of 27 cases of burglary and theft were reported to Quad-City and Madison county authorities during the weekend.

Walter Bamber, 58, Rural Route Two, Collinsville, an attendant at the Uddike service station on Route 162, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital after being struck on the head during a robbery at the often-robbled station at 12:10 a.m. Saturday.

Bamber was closing the station when confronted by the bandit, who had been hiding behind his auto. Displaying a small gun, the robber used it to strike Bamber and then fled with a box containing currency.

No estimate of the amount taken was obtained by deputies. Only a limited description was listed.

Two suspects were questioned at Washington Park but later were released, deputies reported.

An off-duty attendant discovered that the Madison Derby service station on Route 202 had been looted when he passed by at 2:45 a.m. Friday, and that an attendant was being loved him at midnight was missing. The station was ransacked.

Missing were $310 in cash, 20 cartons of cigarettes, 32 worth of "stopleak," 36 quarts of motor oil and two tires. The overnight attendant and his son, who had a 1960 red station wagon and gave a fictitious address when employed recently, are being sought for questioning.

Attempted Strong-Arm
Two young men, 17 or 18 years old, grabbed a purse carried by Norma Breidenbach, 9 Eldorado drive, as she and two companions left the rear door of St. Elizabeth Hospital on the morning of Sept. 8, it was reported at 8:40 p.m. Thursday.

She held on, however, and when her companions screamed, the two fled empty-handed toward the alley of the 2100 block between Washington and Lee avenues.

A burglar obtained articles valued at over $215 Friday night at the home of Gary Davidson, 4220 Highway 162. Entry was gained by breaking a door glass.

Taken were a $120 portable stereo set, a $40 transistor radio, a $25 motorcycle crash helmet, a piggy bank with $15, miscellaneous jewelry worth $10, an alarm clock and two cartons of cigarettes.

Six piggy banks containing $85 to $100 were stolen in a burglary between 6:30 p.m. and 10:15 p.m. Saturday at the home of

366 Entries in Initial Flower Festival Here

Possibility of spring and fall flower shows each year is being discussed in the wake of a successful flower festival held yesterday at the Wilson Park ice skating rink under sponsorship of the Granite City Derby service station.

Attendance was estimated at several thousand persons, and entries in judging totaled 366, including 233 horticulture, 120 artistic and 13 junior division. Championship bowls were awarded by Park Board President Barry Loman to Mrs. B. C. O'Neill, artistic; Mrs. Frank M. Toth, horticulture; and Derek Glenn, 12 years old, junior division.

Mrs. Cecil Williams was a major prize winner in both the artistic and horticulture categories, capturing six blue ribbons, five red ribbons for sections, seven yellow ribbons for third places and four honorable mentions. A novice gardener, she did not begin growing flowers until this May.

Other major winners included: horticulture—Mrs. Clifford Mang, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. William Baldsare and Mrs. Glenn; artistic—Mrs. Lawrence Markham and Mrs. Glenn; and junior—Ronna Lesseg, Virgil Flowers, Lauren Gubser and Paula Orr.

Special awards went to Mrs. Shima Evans, outstanding artistic exhibit, and the Cloverview Garden club, judging. Fifty ivy plants, 30 blooming geranium plants and numerous lawn and garden products and tools were given away. There were many greenhouse and nursery displays, with experts on hand to answer questions from the public.

Rain and wind proved to be only a minor problem, due to the roof over the rink-recreation center.

2 Hurt in Madison Tavern Fight; Slain Man Found

A Madison tavern operator was shot in the right hand and a tavern patron suffered severe head injuries in a fight at the Town Tavern, 1312 State street, early Sunday morning, according to a report by Madison police.

The shooting was one of three reported in the area during the weekend. Hoffman, 23, of 2700 West 20th street, was reported in serious condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital following the fight in which Hoffman was said by police to have fired three shots at George Mathis, proprietor of the tavern.

Police said they first were called to the Town Tavern at 3:25 a.m. yesterday when they received a report that Shelby Wallace, 30, of 3801 Kirkpatrick Homes, was involved in a fight with another drink.

Mathis, with the help of Roger Thomas, 36, of 2225 Cardinal avenue, a tavern patron, broke up the fight and ejected Hoffman.

A few minutes later, police quoted witnesses, Hoffman re-entered the tavern carrying a pistol and shouting "I'll kill everybody in the place."

Police said that Mathis came from behind the bar with a club and that as he did so Hoffman fired one shot. Mathis then struck Hoffman on the head. Hoffman fired another shot, police related, and Mathis again struck Hoffman on the head with the club.

As Hoffman went down, Mathis grabbed the gun, but as he did so Hoffman pulled the trigger and the bullet pierced Mathis' hand.

New Venice Tax Levy Is Set at $433,489

Most Increased Costs Offset By Balance in City's General Fund

A new tax levy totaling $433,489 for the 1968-69 fiscal year was adopted by the Venice city council in regular meeting Friday night. Collection will take place next spring.

The new levy, based on an operating budget of $570,100 over an increase of only $670,100 over last year's levy of $427,785. City Attorney Harry E. Hartman said the increase was held to such a small amount because of a balance of $46,850 in the general fund at the beginning of the fiscal year last May 1.

Tax levy items for the new ordinance based on 1968-69 general appropriations amounted to $188,922, Hartman said, but the cash balance applied against this figure resulted in a total levy of $142,722 for corporate fund items.

In addition to the corporate fund levy, special items for which tax extensions were made included $43,000 for street and alley purposes, $64,800 for police protection, $900 for street lighting, $44,700 for fire protection, $43,115 for garbage collection, $38,885 for police pensions, $18,900 for library purposes, $15,000 for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund and $15,000 for the working cash fund.

Other amounts for operation of major departments which were included in the general fund included $23,478 for street and alley purposes, $33,480 for a police department, $44,500 for garbage collection and $40,780 for fees and salaries of city officers.

Street Lighting Tax
The special $6000 levy for street lighting purposes is a new addition to the tax levied under legislative provisions approved last year.

In the past, cost of street lighting has been incorporated among items of the general fund. City officials said they expect

Dow is Awarded $11 Million Job For Landing Mats

Award of a U. S. government contract for production of $11,460,411 in airport landing mats to the Metals Division of Dow Chemical Co. was announced in Washington this morning.

The announcement came as officials at the Dow plant at Madison and representatives of 700 striking United Steelworkers completed arrangements to resume negotiations tomorrow in an effort to settle a ten-day strike at the Dow plant.

Union and company representatives were scheduled to resume contract talks this morning, but the session was postponed until 10 a.m. tomorrow. Cong. Melvin Price of East St. Louis, who announced the contract award, said 80% of the work is to be done at Dow's Madison plant and the other 20% at the Dow plant at Enterprise, Ala. The contract was awarded by the Naval Air Engineering Center at Philadelphia, Pa.

Used For Airfields
The job calls for manufacture of 24 million pounds of AM-2 landing mats made of aluminum extrusions approximately 24 inches wide and 1.5 inches thick and 12-foot lengths. The mats are used to assemble portable airfields in a short period of time by a relatively few persons.

The Dow plant at Madison has been manufacturing the mats since 1963. A spokesman said today that the Madison plant has produced 9 million square feet of the mats since production began here.

M. W. Dowell, manager of the Madison Dow plant, said: "This is a sizeable piece of business for Dow and the people here. We are hopeful that the current labor dispute will be settled promptly and on a reasonable basis so that all Dow employees can get back to work."

Madisonians' Concern Grows Over Shutdown of Schools

Madison residents — parents, taxpayers and pupils — all have a growing dread concern about the current teachers strike under way in the public schools. A survey conducted by the Press-Record showed that all feel that the children should be in the classroom and not in the streets. The school shutdown is now at the 16th day.

"I'd much rather be back in school, and I wish this thing would get over," said one girl, who was baby-sitting in both her own home and the home of her neighbor while parents were away.

Though most of those interviewed wished to remain in school, the majority feared an increase in taxes if salary demands by the teachers are met. Two mothers objected to a father has to pay for a small, modest brick home.

Cost of Living
"The cost of living will go up. Taxes will go up and the taxes on this place is close to $200 a year," said one woman with a son in school, whose husband is an employee of the school district and did not wish to lose $200 a year.

Another woman with an opinion expressed by a couple with relatives in the teaching field felt definitely that the children should be in the classroom and that contract negotiations could be conducted fairly and reasonably by

Teachers Reject Madison Offer

Cut Demands by $33 Per Month; Board Suit To Be Heard Thursday

The Madison board of education and Madison Teachers Federation Local 763 came closer to an agreement in contract negotiations Friday and Saturday, but the union turned down the last board offer and schools remained closed today.

Meanwhile, a suit for declaratory judgment by the board against 93 individual teachers is set for hearing at 9 a.m. Thursday in circuit court at Edwardsville.

The board is seeking to determine if mass resignations delivered to the board during the summer are legal. If they are valid, schools are to be conducted on split shifts with a teacher number of teachers. If ruled invalid, the board will seek substitute teachers on a 90-day basis.

No new negotiation sessions are scheduled.

Lower Wage Demands
The union lowered its wage demands by $33 per month, which would provide starting teachers with a bachelor's degree $744 per month. It withdrew requests for life insurance and for a cost-of-living increase.

The teachers continued to ask for full hospitalization, sabbatical leave and personal leave. The board offered a two-year proposal. Salaries for teachers would remain the same as in the original offer, with starting pay of $889 per month, and would increase to $711 the second year in addition to an annual cost-of-living provision of $123 ($4 a month).

John Gitchoff, attorney for the school district, said the offer would result in a financial disaster for the 1968-70 year if additional funds are not available.

40-Cent Tax Hike?
He recommended that a referendum be held during the current year for a 40-cent tax increase in the city. If the referendum should fail and additional state funds are not available, Gitchoff said the board would be forced into borrowing to meet operating costs.

At a meeting from 7:30 p.m. to 11:45 p.m. Friday in the city auditorium, the board and teachers still want a voice in appointments of the superintendent and school principals and setting the school calendar. He said they also want a voice in the transfer of teachers between schools during the year.

The board offered to pay half of hospitalization for the entire school staff the first year and the full amount the second year. The first year would cost about $800, and this amount would come from an $11,600

TRAFFIC FATALITY

14 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY

To commemorate the constantly increasing number of students within the Granite City school district the SIMAPC plan outlines an extensive program of development which, it estimates, would require an outlay of more than $15 million for construction of school facilities by 1985.

The student population of Granite City School District No. 9 will increase about 65% to more than 23,600 students by 1985, according to predictions in a plan prepared by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

Of the overall increase, kindergarten pupils will increase in number about 60% over today's level; elementary pupils by 50%; junior high school students by 77%; and senior high school students by 90%, the report says.

On the basis of these projections, the plan report emphasizes that while there is some flexibility as to when additional facilities must be provided to meet the mounting demand, "there is no choice as to the need for the facilities."

School districts throughout the nation are confronted with very similar problems, the report adds.

$15-Million Outlay
To accommodate the constantly increasing number of students within the Granite City school district the SIMAPC plan outlines an extensive program of development which, it estimates, would require an outlay of more than $15 million for construction of school facilities by 1985.

The method of financing such a program would ultimately be up to the school district, but for the most part would involve bond issues, the report says. Estimated population of the school district in 1967 was approximately 56,000 persons, with about 28% of the total school age, the report notes. The special census taken in Granite City last year showed a total of 38,888 persons living within the city limits.

On this basis, the population of the school district in 1985 is projected at 89,267, with 33% of the population of school age. This is higher than the national projection for 1985 which shows 30% of the total population as being of school age.

Many Factors Involved
In planning the need of future facilities, the plan asserts, the total number of classrooms, site, area and other factors can be determined by projections of future school-age population and the use of pupil classroom standards.

But the distribution of needed

NO SMILING FACES brighten this third grade classroom in one of the elementary schools in Madison as most of the faculty continued to stay away in support of contract demands. Teaching materials are ready on the desk.

"plant" facilities "is somewhat more complex and more difficult to estimate than the expected distribution of population, the age structure according to distribution, the service area by type of facility (elementary, junior high, or senior high), and the natural or manmade physical barriers that impede easy access and generally tend to divide the community into small or component parts."

The plan report says that the use of present elementary classrooms at or near design capacity serves the present enrollment with a flexibility factor of about 8% to adjust for variations of class size. The present problem is not one of total space availability, but is a problem of distribution—the city's tax rate to remain virtually unchanged from last year. The 1967 Venice municipal tax rate, on which taxes were collected this year, was 90.4 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Prior to adoption of the new tax levy ordinance, the council approved a resolution which permits the city to extend a street and alley tax of four cents, in addition to the statutory limit of six cents, for a total rate of 10 cents for street and alley purposes.

Underpass Fund Approved
The council received notice from Robert Kronst, district engineer of the Illinois Highway Division at French Village, that the city's request for appropriation of $200,000 in motor fuel tax funds to be applied to the city's cost share in construction of Broadway underpass has been approved by the Illinois Department of Public Works.

Kronst also notified the council by letter that the state has approved plans for resurfacing four stretches of Venice streets with bituminous paving.

The work will be done with motor fuel tax funds and will include improvement of Weaver street from Market to College; Jackson street from Weaver to the city limits; Madison street from Weaver to the west city limits; and Circle drive from Bissell to Klein.

First steps in a program to update the city's street lighting system also were taken. Alderman Lloyd Patterson, chairman of the council's light committee, asked all aldermen to check their wards for locations in which new lights or increased lumen power may be needed, and to report all such findings to him.

Mayor John E. Lee informed the council that the city last week received distribution of $334,000 in city taxes from Venice Town Collector Frank Reideberger Jr.

Mayor Lee said $200,000 of the amount has been invested in 90-day time savings certificates which will give the city $3000 to $4000 interest. The funds can be diverted into the city treasury to meet operational costs at the end of the 90-day period.

Praise Youth Program
A letter from the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission expressing its appreciation for the city's part in a summer youth play and training program was received. Alderman Charles Hampton, who has been active in the EOC program, outlined various activities undertaken during recent months.

Hampton said that a portable swimming pool erected near Lee Wright Homes was the only one of its kind in the county because of the reluctance of most communities to finance part of the operation.

He said 100 to 125 children used the pool each day during the peak summer period. "The youngsters weren't just splashing around," Hampton said. "The program provided qualified instructors who gave swimming lessons to six groups of 15 youngsters each, every day." He outlined other youth activities which included picnics and trips to baseball games.

102 August Arrests
Chief of Police John Essington reported his department made a total of 102 arrests during August, resulting in collection of $783 in fines.

Fifty-six of those arrested were charged with violations of city ordinances, 27 were apprehended on traffic charges and six were arrested on state charges. The remainder were released without charge or turned over to police of other jurisdictions, Essington reported.

The council approved expenses of $150 each for three Venice firemen who will attend a four-day convention of the Illinois Firemen's Association in Dalton, Ill., Sept. 19-22. Those who will attend are Fire Chief William Mosher, Thomas Scatturo and Harold Koelker.

Also approved was $136 in expenses for each of two police officers who will attend a three-day meeting of the Illinois Police Association in Peoria beginning Sept. 22, and for two police officers who will attend the annual meeting of the Policemen's Benevolent Association at Quincy in October.

$100,000 Suit

A suit for $100,000 was filed last week in Madison county circuit court for Robert L. Younger against Dr. George A. Lightburn and St. Elizabeth Hospital. The complaint alleges that Younger lacerated his left wrist while at work on March 21, 1967, but that following surgery at the hospital performed by Dr. Lightburn, the victim sustained permanent partial use of the left hand because of severed nerves and tendons. Negligence was charged.

Miss Granite City to Aid Area United Fund Campaign

A touch of glamor will be added this year to the Tri-Cities Area United Fund campaign with enlistment of the current Miss Granite City—Miss Leetta Marmion—who has agreed to make several public appearances in connection with the annual fund-raising drive.

both the school board and the teachers union.

The principal of one of the grade schools was disheartened as he inspected empty classrooms in the company of a reporter. There were no bright, cheerful, clean, smiling faces, something he had looked forward to at the start of another school year. There was no dedicated teacher at the desk.

Though many of the children were seen milling the streets, one group of six youngsters had their arms laden with books headed for the public library.

SIU Presents Case for Carbondale Law School

Southern Illinois University on Friday presented its case for a law school at the 20,000-student Carbondale Campus, arguing that it could launch the school with facilities it already has.

At a special hearing of the Illinois Board of Higher Education's Committee on Legal Education in Springfield, SIU Carbondale Campus Chancellor Robert MacVicar cited an immediate regional need for more legal service as one major reason for establishment of a law school at SIU.

The committee was set up earlier this year to probe the need for expanded legal training in Illinois. Its findings and recommendations will be part of the Board's blueprint for development of state higher education programs during 1969-71. Other schools scheduled to be heard were the University of Illinois (now the only public institution with a law school), Loyola, Northern Illinois, Illinois State, DePaul and the new state college campus at Springfield. "MacVicar said lack of a law school at SIU amounted to 'underutilization of a great University.' In addition to supplying lawyers and legal education for the southern part of the state, a school at Carbondale also would enrich many related programs at the University and would provide badly-needed research and continuing education facilities for practicing lawyers in southern Illinois and surrounding states, MacVicar said.

MORE ABOUT Fast Expansion

having the additional space available at any given school at the time it is needed.

"If pupil-teacher ratio is to be reduced," the plan states, "and greater flexibility made available for class-size variation, additional classrooms will have to be provided. . . . This has been taken into account and provided for by the standards for classroom design, capacity and a lower teacher-pupil ratio for any classrooms needed."

Should Be Phased Out

The report recommends that 16 of the 21 schools operated by Granite City District 9 be continued in use beyond 1982. But it suggests that five of the present school facilities be discontinued during the period. These include Central junior high school, Logan Annex, McKinley, Stallings and Washington.

In outlining the basis of these recommendations, the report notes that Central junior high school and Logan Annex, McKinley, Stallings and Washington, in the high schools in the Granite City system, located on the periphery of the business and commercial area where commercial expansion has been occurring.

"This school," the report sets out, "has a current enrollment of 670 and is located on a site only eight-tenths of an acre. The site is far below recommended minimum size and is so small that outdoor recreation space cannot be provided. The cost to acquire more land makes the feasibility of site expansion doubtful. Adjacent property is already developed with residential and commercial structures, in addition to being located in a high land value area of the city."

The location is not considered a good environment for a school, the plan report adds. "The type and volume of traffic generated by the downtown business area and the industrial area to the west have direct bearing on the safety of children walking to and from school. These uses generate a variety of activities which are not comparable to school location."

Renovations Necessary Within the structure it self, the report continues, replacing the plaster ceilings and wooden floors is necessary; and the indoor recreation spaces, the shower rooms and the cafeteria are inadequate. The number and severity of the adverse conditions at Central Junior high school indicate that this school should be phased out and facilities provided elsewhere to accommodate the students. Of McKinley elementary school, the report describes this unit as another of the older schools in the district whose structural condition is good, but whose site of 1.5 acres is a deficiency of more than 80% in site area. In addition, the plan asserts, it is surrounded on three sides by major traffic arteries (Madison avenue, Niedringhaus and 2nd streets), which is "indicative of the safety consideration of elementary school children walking to and from school and recreational use of a site that is too small."

"The location is immediately adjacent to the central business district and in the direct route of a continuing business expansion that will engulf the area, the report says. "This site is less than desirable as the location of an elementary school, and the undesirable factors should be periodically evaluated in order to determine the proper time for this school to be disposed of and replaced."

The primary factors that make replacement of McKinley school desirable are site size, access and location, the report adds. However, it states, the facility still is in reasonable proximity to the residential area it serves and is adequate except for outdoor recreation area.

"While this facility eventually should be phased out," the plan report continues, "it has considerable remaining usable life and should be utilized accordingly. Business district expansion and other factors should be periodically evaluated in order to determine the proper time for this school to be disposed of and replaced."

Stallings elementary school, the report notes, is located on a 1.4-acre site which is about one-sixth the size needed, and an expansion is pre-empted by development of residential property on two sides and the railroad right-of-way which borders the rear of the site.

The school also is quite remote from the resident location of the students who attend, it says. Most of the students come from Ponton Beach and the residential area located generally along Route 162 and Route 111. Considerable renovation of Stallings school is the building to meet

Wortman Will Be Probated on Sept. 30

A hearing on the probate of the will of late racket boss Frank "Buster" Wortman has been set for Sept. 30 in the probate division of the Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville.

Magistrate Merlin Hiscott set the hearing for 9:30 a.m. on the petition of Wortman's daughter, Mrs. Susan Jeremiaas of East St. Louis, listed as an heir.

The will did not accompany the petition, and the valuation of Wortman's estate was not listed.

Other children listed as heirs were William Wortman and Donna Wohlbach, both of East St. Louis, and a minor child, Edward Wortman of Belleville. The petition asked that Mrs. Jeremiaas be appointed as executrix as stipulated in the will. She also asks that an appraiser be appointed for the estate. Wortman died Aug. 3 following throat surgery for cancer.

Washington school should be replaced, the report continues, primarily because of its undesirable location for an elementary school. The school is in close proximity to the Union Starch and Refining Co. plant, it notes, "and students are subjected daily to odors expelled by the plant." Access to the school also is seriously hampered by the industrial traffic along 20th street and the railroad tracks.

Several functional deficiencies and major maintenance problems exist at Washington school, the report points out, noting that basement classrooms have suspended heating systems, there are no rest rooms on upper floors and cafeteria facilities are too small. In addition the cafeteria is used as a music room. These factors, along with the age of the building, necessitate its replacement, the report said.

Candlelight Ceremony for Wedding of Miss Jung

Miss Cheryl Sue Jung became the bride of Richard Charles Pond Saturday evening at Concordia Lutheran Church.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Jung, 2209 Nevada avenue, and Mrs. Ben Kraemer of Lake Oswego, Ore., and the late George Pond.

The candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. Arvin Twismeyer before the altar decorated with arrangements of white gladiolus and yellow daisies. Candles in branched candelabra, together with lighted candles in hurricane lamps entwined with white ribbon and smilax, afforded further illumination in the aisle through which the procession passed, the bride escorted by her father.

Albert Froemling presided at the organ and accompanied the vocalist, Mrs. Toni Whitten, in a program of wedding music, continuing with the wedding march and recessional.

The former Miss Jung chose an imported Chantilly-type lace, Rochelle patterned full length wedding gown. It was designed with a bateau neckline outlined in lace motifs embroidered with iridescent sequins, as were the lantern shaped sleeves and the Empire bodice.

The "A" line skirt was edged with lace motifs and embroidered with sequins which encircled the entire hem of the gown. A Watteau court train, detachable, was fastened at the shoulders and detailed with tiers of lace ruffles. Securing a short bouffant veil of sheer illusion was a queen's crown of lace embroidered with pearls and crystals.

The bride carried a Dutch colonial bouquet of white daisies and white Sweetheart roses centered with a corsage.

The attendants, Miss Cathy Jung, a sister of the bride, maid of honor, Miss Debra Jung, another sister, and Miss Linda Klekamp, a cousin, bridesmaids, wore identical gowns of white silk chiffon and satin. They were long with bodies of chiffon with wedding ring necklines of satin and long sleeves of chiffon edged with satin.

The brides, moulded to Empire waistlines, were set off with satin bows. All wore satin bows of citron holding in place bustle veils of silk illusion.

They carried colonial bouquets of yellow daisies and white button mums.

The bride's mother was attired in a sheath dress of aqua lace over matching crepe and bone accessories. She wore a corsage of white orchids.

George D. Pond, the bridegroom's brother, was his best man, and groomsmen and ushers included Walter D. Clark, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Walter Jung, the bride's brother, Richard Klekamp and Robert Hunter.

A crown of matching lace formed the headpiece and secured a double cloud veil and she carried a cascading gardenia bouquet.

Miss Nancy Kay Roethemeyer, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Joyce Whittle, Miss Charlotte Nesbit, Miss Karen Thomas, a cousin of the groom, Miss Vicki Petrillo, the groom's sister, served as bridesmaids.

They wore identical gowns in a light avocado green chiffon over taffeta designed with Venise lace bodices. Each wore a picture hat with long streamers in matching shade of green.

Their flowers were cascade bouquets of yellow daisy pompons.

Serving the groom as best man was Vic Bogosian. George Roethemeyer, Tom Graf, both cousins of the bride, Ed Deak, the groom's cousin, and Mike Harris completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

An evening reception for the guests was held at the VFW Hall, immediately following the ceremony. Vicky Bogosian attended the guest book.

The bride's mother chose a shocking pink blouse dress with matching accessories, and the groom's mother selected an egg shell color crepe dress with brocade bodice and gold accessories.

Both young people graduated from Granite City high school in 1965. The former Miss Johnson is employed at Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, and her husband's employment is at Granite City Steel Co.

Green and White Get Green Light to Play

It was decided Saturday by the Illinois High School Association that Madison was eligible to participate in its first three football games. The first will be Friday at O'Fallon.

This ruling also affected Lincoln of East St. Louis and the East St. Louis high school, all closed due to teachers' strikes.

The IHSA ruled that these schools can play their regular season games until Oct. 1, if the schools are still in session at that time, the IHSA will meet and reach a new decision.

MHS Acting Principal Richard Brown, who sought a ruling from Harry Fitzhugh, executive secretary of the IHSA, received a telephone call from him Saturday afternoon announcing the board's decision.

Brown had pointed out that the Trojans have practiced enough times, the new coach is not a member of the union, students reported for initial classes, the boys "have nothing to do with the problem" nor control over it, and that the administration is at school every day and plans to accom-

Course lengths are to be changed from the standard 1.9-2.1 to a new minimum distance of 2.5 miles and maximum of 2.75. The IHSA has not set an exact deadline, but the new length will be used in the district and state meets.

Next Grand Jury Will Hear Bend Road Case

An Aug. 11 burglary incident at The Bend in which residents helped round up five suspects is still an active case. It was learned today from State's Attorney Leon Scroggins.

Two arrested at the time have been bound over to the grand jury, and evidence relating to all who were involved is to be considered by the grand jury convening Sept. 23. It was learned. A grand jury which concluded its work last week was dealing with earlier cases.

Discussing complaints that a witness received two notifications to appear only a few minutes before he was due at the courthouse, Scroggins noted that his office has no control over magistrate preliminary hearing schedules and that, on occasion, only limited advance notice is possible.

He was found on rocks beneath the bridge, which carries a paved road.

Deputy Sheriff Demos Nicholas said Mr. Amezue had been killed elsewhere and also a member of the sparsely populated area.

He was taken to an East St. Louis funeral home for arrangements on services and burial.

Shot in Head
While sitting in an auto drinking beer in front of his home, Grover Dennis, 46, of 214 Carver street, Eagle Park Acres, was shot in the head by a courier passing a auto in the sparsely populated area.

He was taken by a neighbor to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he told Madison county sheriff that he did not know if the shooting was accidental or done on purpose. He did not wish to prefer charges against the company.

The bullet entered the left side of his head an inch below the ear and came out below the jawbone.

The invocation was given by Rev. M. A. Grotz, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church. Following the dinner, E. A. Karandjeff, bank president and treasurer, introduced a school board and Bob Jo Davis, superintendent, who introduced other school officials and principals.

Dr. Eugene Walton, president of the school board, welcomed the new teachers, and Dr. W. Deane Wiley, dean, SIU-SW school of education, spoke on the greater need of a fine working relationship between teachers, school administrators and school boards, "Teachers," he said, "are the largest single group of professionals and are a major influence in the community. The quality of teachers determines the quality of education."

Arrested for Fighting
Ralph E. North, Fort Bragg, N. C., was arrested by Madison police early Saturday morning on a charge of fighting. Police said they arrested North at 1540 Madison avenue. He was released on bond pending a Sept. 23 hearing in magistrate court.

Authorities also arrested Wallace, who was charged with fighting and with possession of depressant drugs. Wallace was released on a notice to appear for hearing Sept. 23.

A man robbed and brutally murdered Friday night and left in a creek beneath a bridge near State Aid Route 35, a mile west of Illinois Route 157, was identified Sunday as Chris Amezue, 48, of 733 (East) North 22nd street, East St. Louis.

Found by Passerby
Madison County Coroner Leonard R. Davis said an inquest will be held in Highland, where the body was taken for fingerprints and x-rays at 10:10 a.m. Saturday. He estimated that he have had a check for about 12 hours at that time.

A painter, Mr. Amezue had been shot twice, in the head and chest, while working on a house.

When last seen on Wednesday near Ninth and Lynch streets, East St. Louis, he is believed to be painting work he had done. No check was found on him or in his belongings at his home.

The body had been stripped to the waist. Clothing included black trousers, black socks and black shoes. The pockets contained no money or identification.

He was found on rocks beneath the bridge, which carries a paved road.

Deputy Sheriff Demos Nicholas said Mr. Amezue could have been killed elsewhere and also a member of the sparsely populated area.

Dispute Shuts Down Specialized Services Project

A union-company dispute over the length of the work week for about 20 employees of a Madison plastics firm has resulted in the shutdown, temporarily at least, of the girl's work program at the Specialized Services Workshop, for handicapped in Granite in Granite, it was reported today.

The controversy grew out of a month-long struggle at the Chris Kaye Plastics Manufacturing Co., 3200 Madison avenue, where employees sought a new agreement that would guarantee them a 40-hour work week. Union spokesmen contended that most employees of the firm worked less than 40 hours per week and attributed the situation to the subcontracting of major jobs to other firms.

Settlement of the strike was announced last week when the union said, the company agreed to a new hourly work schedule under which the company would not subcontract any work until regular employees had worked a 40-hour week.

While Chris Kaye, president of the company, declined to discuss details of the agreement it was learned this meant cancellation of an order being handled by Specialized Services for the firm.

Delegates Discuss Matter
On the same night that the new agreement was reached, however, delegates to the Tri-Cities Trades and Labor Council who were meeting in regular session at the Labor Temple, discussed the strike issue and criticized the practice of subcontracting work.

Last Thursday Edwin F. Reiske, secretary of the Trades Council and also a member of the seven-man board of the Madison County Health Services which supports phases of the Special Services program, appeared at the Special Services Workshop, 2007 Madison avenue, and instructed William Stacey, manager of the shop, to shut down the machines that were working on the Chris Kaye project, a job of installing rubber tires on training wheels for bicycles.

Reiske said he had been instructed by the delegates to the Trades Council to "do something about" the project that presumably was taking work away from union employees. Reiske said that when he told Stacey to shut down the job, he was unaware the Chris Kaye strike had been settled.

"It is difficult finding jobs that the girls can handle and Chris Kaye has helped the program a lot," he added. "The job that Kacalleff had to cancel because of the controversy with the union was only part of the work the firm has given us during the last year and a half to keep specialized services going."

"The girls at the workshop are now without any work to do and their phase of the program will remain inactive until we can obtain orders for work within the capabilities of the girls," Morris said.

"I believe that some consideration should be given the fact that those employed at the workshop can not handle just any kind of job and that where work is available that they can handle, they should be as entitled to it as anyone else," he added.

Kacalleff said he had no comment on the matter at this time, but added that he may have a statement later.

'Y' Fall Registration

Registration is being accepted for adult physical education classes at the YMCA, including educational judo program to begin at 8 p.m. this Thursday.

Univah Scout Dinner
The first fall dinner meeting of Univah Boy Scout district members-at-large and institutional representatives is set for 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the Grand Cafe annex.

the night before and that the work would have been withdrawn.

To 'Air' Problem
"However," Reiske said, "this matter is going to get a complete airing at the regular meeting of the board (county health services board). From my viewpoint the use of a county and state subsidized organization (special services) to do work that affects the jobs of union employees is something that should not be condoned. I intend to take the matter up with the board."

The county health services board is scheduled to meet in Edwardsville tomorrow night.

Milton Morris, president of the board of Specialized Services, said that withdrawal of the work given to the specialized services workshop by the Chris Kaye firm will shut down the work program for girls at the shop "until we can find other orders that they can handle."

Specialized Services now has about 25 persons working at a shop, 12 of them girls, Morris said.

Need More Work
"It is difficult finding jobs that the girls can handle and Chris Kaye has helped the program a lot," he added. "The job that Kacalleff had to cancel because of the controversy with the union was only part of the work the firm has given us during the last year and a half to keep specialized services going."

Kacalleff said he had no comment on the matter at this time, but added that he may have a statement later.

Teachers Reject

balance in unused salary for a school counselor at Madison high school. An appointment of a counselor has not been made by the board this year.

Union Estimate
Rex Carr, attorney for the union, said the teachers' new proposal would cost the district an additional $72,000 and said the budget for the coming year shows a $73,000 surplus.

Gitchoff said the $73,000 surplus is needed to pay wages and maintenance during the months of July and August. Most of the teachers are paid on a 12-month basis.

The district would have a $40,000 deficit during those two months, rather than a surplus, Gitchoff said.

In turning down the board's offer, the union said it is not interested in a two-year contract unless higher wages are offered.

School could start as late as Oct. 26 without the loss of state tax aid, according to Roy Page, state superintendent of public instruction.

Have Until July
Under state law, he said, schools cannot have classes beyond July 1, and attendance on Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays is not credited. With the extension, the district still could hold classes for the required 176 days to qualify for aid.

Page said use of qualified substitute teachers would be acceptable if the court test Thursday shows the mass resignations of the teachers are legal.

Teacher strikes are prohibited by state law. Page said, but there has never been a clear court ruling on the legality of mass resignations.

Oscar Well, president of the Illinois Federation of Teachers, Springfield, said, substitute teachers would not be approved by the union, and that the teachers are prepared to extend their dispute beyond the end of October, despite loss of state aid.

Well said reopening of schools depends upon whether the board approves necessary conditions for continuation of education in the state.

$69 were stolen in a burglary at the trailer home of Harold Remaker, 87 Kaseberg Park, he reported to the Madison county sheriff's office at 3:30 a.m. Friday. The bedroom was ransacked. Entry was gained by prying the rear sliding door.

Knobloch said the $30 in a black leather bank, about $7 in a cigar box and an AM-FM radio valued at $30 were stolen in a burglary at the home of Mrs. Roy Kiefer, 2783 Namooki drive, while she and her children were at church, she reported at 9:30 p.m. Thursday. All drawers in the house were ransacked. Entry was gained through an unlocked basement door.

Church Burglary
Burtis broke glass and pried the front door to loot the Briarcliff Pentecostal Church, 1120 West Pontoon road, it was reported Thursday.

Taken were a public address system with two microphones, a duplicator valued at $75, a bass guitar in a case, and an electric guitar and amplifier owned by Thomas Smith, 2638 Warren avenue. Desk drawers were pried open and ransacked.

Billy Badgett, 1704 Bremen avenue, reported at 10:10 p.m. Thursday that burglars forced the rear door and looted his home.

Taken were a coin collection with a face value of $100, a brown poodle figurine valued at $1, two glass vases valued at $3, four African wall plaques valued at $5, a camera valued at $23, a portable radio valued at $15, 25 blank checks from the Madison National Bank and a pillow case.

A burglar stole $180 from the trousers of David Harkey, 2949 (rear) Warren avenue, in the bedroom of his home, Friday night.

A burglar pried a hasp off the front door of the Edward Molique home, 2714 Denver street, while the owner was away Friday night. It was not immediately determined what was taken.

Three bedrooms were ransacked at the home of Leonard Walker, 3257 Rodger avenue, Friday evening. The intruder entered through a back door.

Removing a rear window screen to gain access to the apartment of John Roberts, 2415 Winters drive, Friday night, a burglar apparently took nothing. The intruder left through the front door.

A theft of gauges and cutting tools expected to run into several hundreds of dollars was reported to Venice police at 6:20 a.m. Saturday by workers at Hyman-Michaels Metal Co.

The yard was entered from the Washington avenue side and the lock was pried off. Freight cars were used for storage of equipment. The thieves took eight sets of gauges and eight cutting tools.

Strike Status Same
Meanwhile the status of the strike at the Madison plant remained unchanged. There were no meetings during the weekend.

George Becker, district representative of the United Steelworkers of America, emphasized today the negotiations thus far have involved none of the economic factors of a new contract. Talks have been confined in all negotiation meetings so far to issues involving seniority provisions and job assignment practices.

The company has offered a contract package involving an 87-cent per hour increase in wages and other benefits over a three-year contract period. Becker said this offer has been neither rejected nor accepted.

Disturbances at Plant
Venice police were called to the Dow plant on two occasions Thursday afternoon and night as the result of shootings in which windows were damaged in the No. 8 building. Police said investigation left doubt as to whether the shots might have been fired as a result of union strife, or whether they might have come from outside sources.

In other instances, police were called to the plant at 3:40 p.m. Thursday by a Dow guard who reported pickets refused to let a man out of the plant. Officers said when they arrived the man had been permitted to leave. At 4 p.m. police were called again by a guard who reported that pickets were shooting fireworks and throwing torpedoes.

Police went to the plant and reprimanded the pickets, authorities reported. At 9 p.m., also on Thursday, officers were called to the plant in response to a report of a shooting. Officers said they found six bullet holes in a window of the No. 8 building. A short time later, police were informed that five windows had been shot out at the plant.

Discuss Protection Program
Venice John E. Lee and Chief of Police John Essington met in the Venice city hall at 10 a.m. Friday with representatives of both the union and the company to discuss a program of police protection which, Mayor Lee said, was designed to "protect both the company and the men on picket duty from disturbances that might originate outside the union-company dispute."

Mayor Lee said that arrangements will be made to post police at the plant during night and early morning hours as extra protection against possible outside interference.

It was learned from reliable sources that threats have been made to both company officials and union representatives by black militant groups who demanded employment of a greater number of Negro workers at the Madison Dow plant. These threats have been made over several months and not just since the strike began, it was reported.

Discuss Protection Program
Venice John E. Lee and Chief of Police John Essington met in the Venice city hall at 10 a.m. Friday with representatives of both the union and the company to discuss a program of police protection which, Mayor Lee said, was designed to "protect both the company and the men on picket duty from disturbances that might originate outside the union-company dispute."

Mayor Lee said that arrangements will be made to post police at the plant during night and early morning hours as extra protection against possible outside interference.

It was learned from reliable sources that threats have been made to both company officials and union representatives by black militant groups who demanded employment of a greater number of Negro workers at the Madison Dow plant. These threats have been made over several months and not just since the strike began, it was reported.

Unknown quantities of eggs, buns, tomatoes and ice cream were stolen from Curt's Grill in the 1600 block of Madison avenue. The thieves had entered a basement storage room.

The items were valued at $900. Robert Holshouser, 2231 Pontoon road, reported at 7:45 a.m. Friday that his 1960 cream over copper four-door was stolen from the vicinity of his home after midnight.

Poulin Beach officers recovered the Holshouser auto at 1:55 a.m. Sunday.

Officers alleged that he and younger boys were found with the auto on the levee.

He and a passing motorist found the vehicle later on a nearby township road with both rear tires flat.

Meanwhile, a three-week criminal trial setting opened today in circuit court, listing 50 cases involving 48 defendants. Eleven of the cases involved Quad-City area crimes.

The grand jury also presented routine reports on inspections of the county jail, nursing home and tuberculosis sanatorium, and recommended that since the sanatorium is to be closed at the end of the year, that it be converted into nursing home facilities.

A new panel of the grand jury is to be convened on Sept. 23 to consider current criminal cases.

Illinois in 1818—Earliest Recorded History of Quad-Cities Is Recalled

(From the Files of the Granite City Press-Record)

Earliest recorded history of the Quad-Cities gives insight into what life was like during the first years of this community. Hatcher and Mueller sold Ben Hur wheat flour, and the Granite Realty Co. advertised lots at $5 a foot and up. Fourteen thousand sycamore trees were planted. A missing horse described as "14 hands high" was sought by its owner.

A Granite City company publicly announced that it and an employee had parted company, warning that "any bills paid to him will not be credited at this office."

Local cities stressed that they were "an excellent change point for visitors" bound for St. Louis.

Heavy railway traffic developed, new factories were started and local steel mills were kept busy filling orders.

Fourth of July festivities at Horseshoe Lake featured balloon ascensions, "fat men's races" and "the customary free-for-all."

Brick paving was planned for State, 19th and D streets and Niedringhaus avenue. The "Good Luck Store" flourished, but the luck was bad for victims of the "many shooting affairs" tabulated here.

"Gambling, fast horses and women" were blamed as two young men admitted using their employers' funds.

Mitchell was a popular family fishing and hunting resort, but complaints developed when St. Louis and East St. Louis parks "put the lid" on drinking, and local weekend crowds became too large.

A street "car every ten minutes" was guaranteed as retail merchants sponsored annual outings at Moellenbrock's and Bricker and Young's.

Venue township became the second richest in Madison county, topped only by Alton on property assessment rolls.

Halloween celebrants were urged not to steal eggs or put "tick-tacks" on windows. Cabbage throwing was permitted, if the patrolman was not looking, and ringing of doorbells was allowed, if it was not repeated too often.

Many couples eloped, and Wagner Bottled Beer was popular. Vocal, piano and violin selections highlighted Lyceum performances in the Quad-Cities.

Local farmers found it necessary to organize against hunters "shooting blades off windmills and confusing mules for bears."

Oratory, declamation, essays and athletic contests, and regattas were held on Horseshoe Lake. A case of insanity was attributed to "being a cigarette fiend."

Clubs and white helmets were ordered for police. Wooden blocks were used to pave Madison avenue in Madison.

A move was started to bring the county seat to Granite City, where funds were contributed for construction of a court house.

Burglars and others of foreign descent came here in large numbers to work at industrial plants, and regulations governing sleeping rooms proved difficult to enforce when many of them said they did not understand English or the wording of city ordinances. On one weekend, 10 were arrested for multiple occupancy of rooms and 67 of these were lodged in jail.

A Henpecked Husband's Club was formed, and "aeronautic" tests and flights were booked for the first library.

Club women gathered 500 books for the first library.

50 YEARS AGO

SEPTEMBER 9, 1918

Many Namekott township voters will have new places to vote at the Sept. 11 primary election due to the township being re-districted. There are two new Granite City precincts. As a result, four of the seven Namekott township precincts are now within the city limits.

The federal government has taken a hand in the matter of the tax assessments of the McKinley and Merchants bridges. The Madison County Revue has made public a letter to State's attorney Streuber from John Barton Payne, counsel for Director General McAdoo.

Payne opposed raising of the assessments and asked that no additional taxes be placed on the structures. He said the valuations for 1911 through 1917 were reasonable and fair.

Congress has passed a law taking over railroads, and the federal government is paying their taxes. Payne urged that the bills be kept to a minimum, "relieving your government of any excessive tax or embarrassment in the present emergency."

City Renewal Approval Would Add Luster to Hospital Groundbreaking

Ground will be broken Saturday morning, Sept. 21, for an $8,714,452 construction project at St. Elizabeth Hospital. It will be a happy occasion, but it would be far happier if the participants and public had received municipal approval of the hospital-related renewal program pending in the city council.

By a single vote, aldermen could revive Granite City renewal and speed it on its way to federal authorities. In this way, they would avoid wasting the extensive work which was devoted to preparation of the application and supporting documents. And they would avoid wasting the credits which Quad-Cities earned by contributing to the modernization-expansion fund of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Federal tax aid for local renewal, which could aid downtown parking, hospital area parking, traffic access and downtown commercial development, depends on an expression of citizen interest and support. Such support was clearly shown by the successful hospital financial drive, but the credits expire over a period of time and many are due to lapse this fall.

The new hospital wing will be a tremendous asset, affording local residents and workers the latest in medical facilities and equipment. It could be an even greater asset with city officials giving the cooperation that is deserved.

Action by the council to help pull the downtown-and-hospital area "up by its bootstraps" is essential. When will the council act?

Mitchell Park Festival This Weekend

One of the major events of the year in the Mitchell area is scheduled for this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, when the Park and Athletic Association will conduct a festival highlighted by sides, food and entertainment.

Proceeds will permit development of playground and athletic facilities and continuation of baseball, soccer and basketball programs. The undertaking is worthy of hearty support by Quad-Citizens.

Spirit of '76 for Boys - Constructive Service, Study, Reverence

(Last of two Boy Scouts of America articles)

First step in development of Boypioneer '76 was the establishment of national goals.

Membership goals naturally came first, because the total number of boys, scouts and explorers governs everything else.

Regions, councils and districts will accept fair shares based on the national goals.

Goals intended to deeply involve a representative third of all boys include, by the end of 1976, 3,065,000 boys in 81,121 packs, 2,785,000 scouts in 102,871 troops and 650,000 explorers in 47,150 packs.

Among top unit leaders, 65% are to have completed training. Of all units, 75% are to qualify as "national standard."

Council professional staff members are to total 6183, with aggregate council operating expenditures of $152 million.

Membership growth must be accompanied by program enrichment. Such enrichment starts with trained unit leaders capable of guiding boys through an understanding, relevant scouting experience.

National Standard Units. Another quality item will be the National Standard Unit concept. This will measure the district and council organization and the extent to which the work of the district results in maintaining units up to the national standard.

Among those coming here will be John H. Nicholson, founder, A. E. Lewis, Ed. Claire, Wis., international president, and Charles P. Eisenmeyer, Alhambra, Calif., international trustee.

International officers of the Gideon Society, including the founder, will attend a rally of the organization here Sept. 18-19. As guests of the Tri-City Gideon Camp, they will attend a banquet at St. John's Evangelical Church. The visitors and local camp members will conduct morning and evening services the following week at a number of churches here.

Need 'Greater Than Ever' As New United Fund Campaign Approaches

As division chairmen are appointed and as other preparations take place, leading to the Oct. 7 start of the 1969 United Fund campaign here, it is important that local families, employees, firms and organizations begin studying the needs of the 19 health, service and character-building agencies here and begin planning financial pledges for the year.

Speaking for the AFL-CIO Executive Council, President George Meany has pointed out that "the needs are greater than ever" and that "community services and relationships have a key role in the effort to resolve the complex problems" that must be resolved for life in this and other communities to be satisfying, stimulating, safe and mutually beneficial.

"If private institutions are to meet those responsibilities, they must have more money," President Meany notes. We second his suggestion that all accept a personal responsibility to make sure that the funds which are needed are provided.

Take Steps Now to Help Extend Christmas Cheer to American Servicemen in Vietnam

Due to the time required for shipping and distribution, local residents will need to give thought in September and early October to assembling Christmas season gifts for servicemen in Vietnam.

One of the most ambitious projects of this sort, the "ditty bag" program of the American Red Cross.

It is hoped to provide 600,000 men and women overseas with bags containing pens, writing paper, combs, address books, soap cases, snapshot holders, playing cards, pocket games, fingernail clippers, candy, nuts, paperback books and similar gifts. These would be sent from loved ones and their homeland and asked to shoulder the burdens of a long, intense, difficult war.

Persons and organizations wishing to help make the 1968 "Operation Shop Early" a success may contact the Red Cross at 1411 Twenty-first street.

Cool Off the City Council Sessions

The bickering and bickering at Granite City council meetings ill behooves those who serve as the official representatives of their city and its citizens.

A certain amount of discord is understandable, and differences between individuals in a sense testify to the fact that democracy is at work. There is no rigid "party line" which officials must quietly accept against their better judgment.

However, whether 100% earned or not, council transactions have a reputation for strife and delay that leaves this community open to scorn in the minds of many people, including those considering moving here or annexing to the city. Even worse, the clashes seem to be reducing the chances for constructive planning and action.

City officials ought to "cool it" and concentrate on the numerous opportunities for service open to them as Granite City's top-level governing body.

An outstanding monthly series of free public health presentations has been scheduled in 1968-69 by St. Elizabeth Hospital. The initial "After School Health" will be given at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Tri-Cor building.

25 YEARS AGO

SEPTEMBER 9, 1943

"To accept a surrender from Germany as we have from Italy would be a filthy business," Dr. Roland G. Usher, historian and author, told a packed audience of men and women at a dinner meeting sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, held at the YMCA.

He said he is vigorously opposed to such an acceptance, asserting that "we should march right into Berlin and knock their heads off."

Viet Cong Being Urged to Defect

(U. S. Department of State)

Perhaps the following suggestion in regard to the current Vietnam war might, without prior publicity, be worth a try. My suggestion is this:

That the United States print notices to be dropped over North Vietnam a supply routes, etc., to the effect that for a specified amount of time, say three months, any of the soldiers so wishing might be given not only sanctuary, but a substantial sum of money ($200,000) upon turning in his weapons and ammunition to the United States.

For larger pieces such as tanks, a bonus sum might be offered.

Perhaps tantamount to bribery, we need only to emphasize the peaceful endeavor of such an offer, made in the desire to better the whole country while depleting the ranks of the North Vietnamese, so that our soldiers can come home.

Dear N. W.:

Since you have expressed an interest in the possibility of rehabilitating enemy defectors, we would like to discuss with you the present efforts being made in this area.

The Chief of Staff (Open Arms) program, begun in 1963, offers amnesty to those who have been misled or intimidated into joining the Viet Cong.

Reception centers are set up in each province for the returning defectors, who are given housing, subsistence and clothing.

During the initial weeks, the returnees are permitted to discuss their experiences with Viet Cong and are given reorientation lectures to enable them to readjust to South Vietnamese society.

Most returnees leave the centers to return to their homes and families, but if their homes are in territory currently under Viet Cong domination, they are eligible for resettlement elsewhere, including a house and land in more secure areas.

Some, who wish to follow new occupations, are also given vocational training.

Some returnees volunteer to fight against their former comrades and are formed into special units, which have been particularly effective because of their knowledge of the enemy.

Under the Chief of Staff program, there have been growing numbers of Viet Cong defectors.

The 1964 figure of 5147 returnees increased to 11,124 in 1965. The figure for 1966 was 20,247.

In total, from 1963 to 1966, there were 48,031 returnees in spite of South Vietnam's internal difficulties.

As of Oct. 1, 1967, approximately 23,600 had left the Viet Cong ranks.

Further indications of the success of the program are to be seen in the strenuous efforts of the Viet Cong to combat it and to warn their forces against it.

The Doan Ket (National Reconciliation) program was inaugurated by then Premier Ky on April 19, 1967.

While many of its provisions were already in effect, the new statement inaugurated a new fledgling attempt to persuade Viet Cong leaders to return to the Government's side.

The proclamation offers full citizenship rights and all the guarantees of the new Constitution to all who rally to the national cause.

The announcement also extends the possibility of employment in the government to those who served with the Viet Cong.

South Vietnamese government is taking these steps to bring about more and more Viet Cong defectors.

The programs are published; information about them is broadcast; and leaflets on the program are distributed throughout the Viet Cong controlled areas.

The programs are entirely ad hoc, and are not backed by Vietnamese officials.

The United States provides only technical and financial assistance.

New Look at an Old Drug - Aspirin

(American Association for the Advancement of Science)

Aspirin—known chemically as acetylsalicylic acid—comes so close to being a miracle drug, it is safe, cheap, and relieves an unbelievable variety of pains and discomforts.

But aspirin is not a perfect drug. A relatively small number of users show signs of aspirin intolerance characterized by asthma, inflammation of the mucous membrane of the nose, and other reactions.

Aspirin has also been implicated as the villain in a number of other human ailments, including heart disease, asthma, and the mechanisms of aspirin action, either beneficial or harmful, have remained unknown for many years.

Medical researchers Dr. David Hawkins, Neal Pinckard and Richard S. Parr of the Scripps Clinic and Research Foundation, La Jolla, Calif., report in "Science" how aspirin acts on the blood serum of many patients, as well as normal subjects, who had taken aspirin showed an increase in the binding of a substance called acetylcholine.

Later, they found that the serum albumin was permanently and irreversibly altered by direct treatment with aspirin.

The findings were strengthened by the discovery that the albumin is altered by the transfer of an acetyl group from aspirin to the blood protein, and it is this transformation that it accounts for the binding of acetylcholine which initially prompted the study.

It is not yet known what physiological consequence might follow from the acetylation of human serum albumin by aspirin, for these findings are largely based on test tube experiments.

Dr. Farr and his co-workers have found that aspirin seems to acetylate other human proteins.

Rules for Driving to the Olympics

(American Mutual Liability Insurance Company)

Driving to Mexico to the Olympics this October? Be sure you have the proper coverage on your car, or your vacation trip may turn out to be an expensive and unhappy one.

Most domestic automobile policies apply while the automobile is within the United States. America, its territories or possessions or Canada, but there is no coverage under these policies in Mexico.

Insurance companies strongly recommend, "Don't drive in Mexico without liability insurance." This may be purchased at the border.

Motorists who have not purchased insurance from a Mexican company may be placed in jail following an accident and have their cars impounded until they can prove they can pay for damages.

Coverage can usually be written at the border or through a legally authorized surplus lines broker in advance of the trip. Such coverage can be written on a very short-term basis, just long enough to cover the duration of the trip.

Any American planning to drive in Mexico also should carry proof of ownership of the car he drives and a valid driver's license.

A tourist card should be obtained from an office of the Mexican Bureau of Tourism, the Mexican consular or at the Mexican consulate or at the Mexican consulate. Possession of a birth certificate expedites the issuance of this card.

County Service Tax Hike Up for Adoption

A resolution to adopt a county service occupation tax at three-quarters of one per cent will be presented at the meeting of the Madison county board of supervisors at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday at the courthouse in Edwardsville.

It will increase the present one-half of one per cent rate as authorized by state statutes. It will affect only persons engaged in the business of making sales of service in the unincorporated areas of the county.

Another resolution to be submitted proposes a $5 license fee for out-of-state haulers of refuse to Madison county landfills. The fee is the same as charged to county haulers.

A previous fee of $100 a year assessed against out-of-state truckers has been declared illegal by a circuit court judge, and as a result, the county sanitation department has no control over out-of-state refuse. The agenda for the meeting also includes granting of a contract to print school directories, purchase of bonds for the new county juvenile detention home and purchase of a mimeograph machine for the county clerk's office.

Workshop Training for Handicapped Described

A total of 231 physically and mentally handicapped persons currently are involved in training programs and sheltered workshops operated by Specialized Services, Inc., Granite City Optimists learned Thursday afternoon.

Robert Geller, administrator of professional services for the vocational and rehabilitation training organization, said that Specialized Services opened its third workshop training program in East St. Louis last November.

Workshops and related training sites are located in Granite City and Alton, with Specialized Services now administering its program in seven buildings in Alton and two in the local community, the official noted.

A maximum of 60 weeks is allotted to each individual entering the program, with a majority of those enrolled reaching a productive employment stage prior to the 15-month limit, Geller said.

Describing the training offered, Geller explained the initial eight weeks are devoted to evaluation of the student's abilities, basic skills and needs, followed with 26 weeks of graduated training, or pre-vocational training.

The remaining 26 weeks are used to instruct the individual in specific job skills, together with a job adjustment period preparatory to outside employment. Trainees unable to qualify for outside work are assigned to available jobs in sheltered workshops, Geller said.

He noted that about 40% of the program is financed by work contracts with industries, with the remaining funds acquired through Illinois Department of Mental Health grants and other state sources, while tuition fees are paid by the Department of Vocational and Rehabilitation.

The Specialized Services administrator, who also is a member of the Granite City Optimist Club, was introduced by Herman Mueller, program chairman. Nineteen attended the luncheon meeting in the YMCA, including a guest, Ted Eilerman, new assistant administrator at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Pomeroy-Myers Nuptials At Nameoki Presbyterian

Among the first of the early September weddings taking place this week was that of Jeneal Myers and Kerry Pomeroy.

The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock Saturday evening at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, Rev. R. Paul Sims officiated, assisted by Rev. Gail Cross, pastor of Nameoki Presbyterian Church.

Bouquets of white summer flowers adorned the altar and burning candles in candelabra illuminated the aisle.

A floor-length skimmer gown of ivory silk-faced peau de sole and a beaded re-embroidered Alencon lace was worn by the bride. The lace bodice featured a high sabrina neckline and short sleeves. Lace appliques were repeated on the front of the "A" line skirt with a full train caught high at the back.

The full length veil was worn mantilla fashion with a lace applique border. The bride held a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with white cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Sharon Fine, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, and Miss Kathy Darnier, and Miss Charlotte Mathis were bridesmaids. They were dressed in yellow skimmer gowns decorated with high mandarin collars and back panels from the neck to the hemline. They were matching tiered veils and carried cascade bouquets of carnations, the colors contrasting with their gowns.

Two little flower girls, Deann and Mona Fine, nieces of the bride, carried baskets of rose petals. They were dressed in short frocks of yellow brocade taffeta with yellow bows in their hair.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white cotton oxford with bias bands on the long sleeves and at the hem. A bias band also formed a stand-up collar closed with a bow at the back. A train fell from the shoulders. A matching bow held the short veil of silk illusion and the bride carried a round bouquet of white roses, daisies, baby breath and ferns.

Miss Mary Sue Armstrong, the bride's sister, was honor attendant, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. W. C. Kaslham, a sorority sister of the bride, and Misses Andrea and Rhonda Tharp, sisters of the bridegroom.

Relocation of Venice Underpass Rail Lines Begun

Work on realignment of three major railroad lines in the vicinity of Broadway and Main street in Venice has been started to clear the way for construction of the long-awaited Broadway underpass.

Grading work for construction of "run-arounds" which will take New York Central, GM&O and Norfolk & Western trains around the underpass while it is being built is under way in the old Kerr Island area adjacent to the County road just north of Broadway.

Construction of the temporary lines and eventual relocation of the tracks atop the underpass structure when it is completed will be done by the railroad at a cost of about $180,000. The subway structure with drainage outlets and pumping facilities will be built by the Illinois Highway Department, and the city of Venice will contract for and finance paving of relocated Broadway and Main street as well as ramp approaches to FA Route 151 (The Great River Road).

Contract for the subway structure was awarded by the state highway department two weeks ago to the Nelson Construction Co. on a low bid of $918,705. The project is to be completed not later than May 1, 1970, under an order of the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Beginning of work on the underpass project climaxes more than six years of ICC hearings, highway planning and financial problems for the city of Venice which will be required to spend about $300,000 as its share of the construction cost.
